Valedictorian

What it took to be the best in my class:

Everyone in my class was very competitive. Besides taking AP classes and honors classes, I took college courses and did an internship. I was also SGA president.

On starting college at FIU:

It's exciting. Today in the Graham Center there were people playing hip hop music and people playing the violin.

Where I see myself in five years:

In law school. I would love to go to Washington, D.C., and ultimately be involved in politics.

My dream:

I would love to be president of the United States to show what a minority woman can achieve.
